

OFFAL

Our offal products are sourced from key producer nations, which means that we can provide all types of meat according to each customer's needs. Included in our extensive offal range are trips, omasum, tendon, aorta, tail, membrane, heart, liver, brain, tongue and kidney.

Our product range is slaughtered and prepared under stringent hygiene regulations as laid down by local health and quarantine authorities. In Australia, this means that offal is inspected by government officers before and after the washing and trimming process.
